Voice, Piano

Pitch was John Mayer's body double in one of his music videos.

Jonathan 'Pitch' Pitcher, a San Diego native, is no amateur when it comes to singing, performing, and playing.

Pitch has taken instruction from many great teachers such as Seth Riggs, Richard Fredericks, and Diane Richardson. He graduated from the Berklee College of Music as a Vocal Principle. With all of his knowledge and experience, he is more than able to instruct for an eclectic range of vocal techniques from Classical to Musical Theater, from Jazz to Pop.

He has recorded and/or performed with artists such as Debby Ryan, Alyson Stoner, Chase Ryan, and Sunn. Pitch teaches from a three-fold foundation of Tension, Placement, and Breath Support. From learning how to sing and accompany oneself, all the way to becoming a professional singer, player and performer, Pitch is the instructor to learn from.
